

Expression of Interest Form Pathway to Planning Profession Program

In 2018, North Queensland felt the loss of one of its most prominent town planners, Susan Green. Susan Green worked at Brazier Motti in Townsville for 19 years and during this time, made far-reaching connections with many in the planning and development industry. Susan began working at Brazier Motti at just 22 years old. She was one of the first graduates from the then new JCU Planning course. She established her mark then as a pioneer, setting a pattern for the rest of her career. She enjoyed being a mentor and a leader to many coming into the profession, and she also found immense satisfaction in her role on the Planning Institute of Australia (NQ) Committee.

Susan understood the need for continued professional development and engagement with professional networks.

At only 41, Susan had much more before her. The Pathway provides a fourth year Bachelor of Planning student much before them.

The Pathway to Planning Profession is in memory of Susan Green. It provides an opportunity for one (1) fourth year, James Cook University Student who is studying a Bachelor in Planning, an opportunity to shape their future by providing them with the following:

- 1 x Young Planner PIA Membership for the year;
- 20 business day work placement at Brazier Motti (Cairns or Townsville office) at some time over the calendar year;
- membership on the PIA NQ sub-committee, as the young planner representative; and
- 2 x industry network events (e.g. PIA, UDIA, PCA symposiums and events) within the year.
